Congress official email address: convegno2019@sisfa.org.

The Congress: The Meeting is one of a well-established series that SISFA has been organizing on a yearly basis since its foundation. It aims at promoting the research activities in the history of physics and astronomy in Italy, carried out not only by academic historians but also by independent scholars and school teachers willing to explore the role of the history of physics and astronomy in present-day teaching of the disciplines. At the same time, the Meeting provides an opportunity to strengthen the collaborations and establish new links among the members of SISFA and the members of other scholarly societies, as well as researchers working in the same and in related fields.

Historians of physics and astronomy are then invited to participate and the invitation is extended to all the scholars and researchers sharing the same kind of interests.

The Meeting will host both invited talks and oral communications. More detailed information and updating will soon appear on the Meeting website <http://www.sisfa.org/convegni/pisa-2019>.

- The Premio di Laurea SISFA 2019 for the Best Master Thesis in History of Physics and/or History of Astronomy will be awarded during the SISFA 2019 Congress.

Topics: Proposals for oral communications should mainly address the history of physics and astronomy, also in connection with the related areas of mathematics, chemistry and the history of science and culture. Studies focusing on historical instruments and documentary sources regarding the mentioned fields are also relevant to the purposes of the Congress, as well as the applications of the history of physics and astronomy in science education and in museum displays.

Topical sessions: The year 2019 is dense of anniversaries, among which the bicentenary of Riccardo Felici (1819-1902), the centenary of 1919 measurement of the deflection of light, the five hundred years since the death of Leonardo da Vinci, the fiftieth anniversary since the first moon landing. Specific topical sessions will consider these important figures and events on the basis of recent scholarly research in the history of physics and astronomy. Special thematic sessions will be devoted to: 1) the history of General Relativity, focusing in particular on the experimental tests of Albert Einstein's theory; 2) the connections between science education and the history of physics and astronomy; 3) historical perspectives on the physics and on the physicists in Venezuela.

Outline of the Congress: The Congress will host invited talks and communications. The official languages are Italian and English.

Video shooting: The talks will be broadcast live streaming. The presentations will be filmed and the related videos will be available on a dedicated channel of YouTube (unless explicit refusal by the contributor).

Venue and Places: The Meeting will be held at the Enrico Fermi Physics Department of the University of Pisa, which hosts the Departmental Center Bruno Pontecorvo (<http://centropontecorvo.df.unipi.it>). The thematic session devoted to the experimental tests of the theory of General Relativity will take place in Cascina, at the European Gravitational Observatory, where the gravitational wave interferometric detector Virgo is located (at about 20 km from the Pisa city center).

Pisa is a historical city of Tuscany located at about 12 km from the sea (<https://www.italyguides.it/en/tuscany/pisa>) and 85 km from Florence. The Galilei International Airport is located at 1 km from the central station of Pisa, which can be easily reached by public transportation, in particular using the automated People Mover train.

Details about transportation and accommodation will be provided on the Congress website. Several parallel events in conjunction with the gathering will give the participants the opportunity to get acquainted with the scientific and historical heritage of Pisa and surroundings.

Travel information and hotel reservation: Special reservations can be made for the participants in selected hotels in Pisa within about 1 km from the meeting venue. Shuttle transportation will be provided to all participants on behalf of the organizers to the Virgo site in Cascina, where special sessions and cultural excursions will take place. More travel information will be provided in a further bulletin and on the web page of the Congress <http://www.sisfa.org/convegni/pisa-2019>.

Special events: During the meeting some special events are planned, as the excursion to the Pisa Museum of Scientific Instruments, where an exhibition specially set up on the occasion of the congress will be displayed, and to the Monumental Cemetery, where the painting Il trionfo della morte of Buonamico Buffalmacco (1262-1340) is visible after its recent restoration. Also a scientific visit to the site of the Virgo experiment and of the European Gravitational Observatory is foreseen. More details (fee amount, etc.) will appear on the meeting website.
